Tasks 1, 2, 3 and 4: I listen to the interview (Part 1)

Jenny, a fourteen-year-old English girl is filming her grandmother Elizabeth and interviewing her for a school project about the old days due on "Grandparents Day".

Jenny: Look at the camera, grandma, and answer my first question. When were you born?

Grandma: In 1939, the same year the Second World War began.

Jenny: Were you born here, in London?

Grandma: No, sweetheart. I was born in the North, in a farmhouse five miles away from the nearest village in the Lake District, now a very beautiful National Park. My dad used to raise cows and sheep. We also had ducks, geese and chicken.

Jenny: Can you tell me a little more about this farmhouse, grandma? Was it big?

Grandma: Not really. Actually, we shared it with my three uncles and two aunts. My mum and dad had got only two rooms. My three sisters and I shared one of them.

Jenny (bewildered): What? Were you four in the same room?

Grandma: Yes, sweetheart. You're so lucky to have a room for you alone, today. We didn't have that chance. The toilets were outside in the farmyard, near the cowshed. We had no bathroom. We used to take a bath once a week in a tub made of wood and placed on the kitchen floor. There was a wood-burning stove in the kitchen on which my mother used to cook or boil water. Today, things are quite different. How often do you take a bath, Jenny?

Jenny (laughing): Almost every day! I usually take a quick shower in the morning before I go to school.

Grandma: You're lucky kids, today! We used to help mum with housework and tidy our room every day. We also took turns to feed the chickens, ducks and geese. I learnt to milk cows at 12.

Jenny: This is really a hard work!

Task 3 page 48: (I listen again to the interview "Part 1" and correct the "false" statements).

1. Grandma was born in 1939.
2. Grandma was born in north of England.
3. Grandma's birthplace was a big farmhouse. Not really. Actually, they shared it with my three uncles and two aunts.
4. She shared a room with her three sisters.
5. Grandma's dad shared the farmhouse with his three brothers and two sisters.
6. The toilet were outside the house.
7. They used to take a bath once a week.
8. Jenny usually takes a shower in the morning.

Task 7 page 49: (I listen to "Part 2" of the grandmother's interview and number each bubble in the correct order).

...1... Tell me, grandma, what did you use to eat in those days?

...2... Porridge at breakfast. Oh, I hated it! And Yorkshire pudding with roast beef on Sundays. Everyday meals consisted of boiled potatoes with gravy, meatballs, kidney pies and brown bread. We had homemade cookies with the afternoon tea. The family used to gather around the table, in the kitchen. Mum used to serve dad first, and then us. We weren't allowed to put our elbows on the table or talk with our mouths full. We didn't have the right to leave the table before the meal was over. No such things as hamburgers or pizza on the table, of course!

...3... I don't like fast food, grandma. I sometimes eat a cheeseburger when I go out with friends but I often have a vegetarian meal. You know, salads and rice with vegetables.

. That sounds reasonable, young lady. This is what I call a healthy diet.

Tasks 9 and 10: I listen to the interview (Part 3)

Jenny: Now, tell me grandma. What did you use to wear back then?

Grandma: We didn't use to wear leggings or jeans eighty years ago, for sure! Our clothes were quite formal not casual like yours today. They were made of wool or cotton. We used to wear long dresses, blouses, shawls which mum knitted for us, headscarves and clogs made of wood for farm work. My dad bought us new clothes only once a year, on our birthdays.

Jenny: What did you use to wear on special occasions?

Grandma: Well, when we were invited to weddings, for example, I used to swap my clothes with my cousins. They had beautiful dresses and nice blouses. We also used to wear hats on such occasions not headscarves. I loved hats. I still love them today; they're so classy and elegant! Just look at Queen Elizabeth!

Jenny: Girls rarely wear hats, these days. We prefer berets or caps. And wooden clogs can be seen only in a museum!

Grandma: Well, sweetheart, times change!

Tasks 12 and 13: I listen to the interview (Part 4)

Jenny: Did you have fun, grandma? What games did you use to play in those days?

Grandma: Well, girls used to play with rag dolls. They were made of old pieces of cloth and stuffed with wool. We also played hide-and-seek, hopscotch and skipping rope. Boys played with marbles or made their own toys from wood. Today, you have all this technology to entertain you on your mobile phones, tablets and laptops.

Jenny: You're right, grandma, but I never play video games, for example. I'm not very fond of all this technological entertainment as you call it. I sometimes play board games like scrabble or chess with my friends but I prefer sports and books.

Grandma: Nothing can replace books. You should keep reading all your life, sweetheart. Books teach you a lot about life.

Tasks 18, 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23: I listen to the interview (Part 5)

Jenny: One last question, grandma. What is your best childhood memory?

Grandma: My first day at school. I went to elementary school the year WW2 ended, seventy years ago. I was about 6 at the time. I put on my new school uniform: a nice black gymslip and a white blouse with a nice big collar.

Jenny: What is a “gymslip”, grandma?

Grandma: It’s a dress without sleeves which we used to wear over a blouse some sixty or seventy years ago. So, I was very happy that morning when dad drove me to the village school in his cart. I was impatient to learn things, and I learnt a lot at school. I will remember that day for the rest of my life! You’re still wearing school uniforms today, Jenny.

Jenny: Yes, grandma but mine is quite different from yours. It’s more like a “blazer-and-tie” uniform style: a black blazer and skirt, a white blouse and socks, and a red tie. Plus, in winter, a V-neck jumper, a black coat and trousers.

Tasks 26 and 27: I listen to the interview (Part 6)

Grandma: Well, life is not what it used to be. Times change, my little darling.

Jenny: I guess they’ll always do, grandma.

Grandma: You’re right, Jenny. Times will always change.

Jenny: Thanks, grandma, for being so patient with me and my questions.

Grandma: I don’t like cameras but your questions reminded me of the good old days. So, thank you, sweetheart.

Jenny: I love you so much, grandma! Give me a hug.
