Hello, my friend!

I am happy to tell you about the itinerary of my wonderful trip around Europe.

First, I started my trip from the capital London and flew to Lisbon, Portugal. I arrived at 10:00 a.m. I walked around the city where I saw many beautiful sights. Then, I went to Batalha town and visited "Batalha Monastery" which is one of the most impressive masterpieces. I had my lunch there and ate caldo verde soup which is very tasty. After that, I travelled on TGV (high speed train) to Barcelona, Spain, to see the famous building "La Sagrada Familia" which was designed by the talented architect Antonio Gaudi. I took many photos there with some Spanish friends and enjoyed our dinner by having the traditional rice dish "Paella". I spent the night in that town because I wanted to stay with my friends as much as I can. Afterwards, I moved to France and visited the splendid monument made of iron the "Eiffel Tower". I also walked along the Seine banks and ate very delicious crepes. Later, I sailed to Italy on a cruise ship. I visited the floating city "Venice" and walked over lots of bridges like "Rialto Bridge". I ate "spaghetti" at Fiola Restaurant with a fascinating view on canals.

Finally, I came back to London after having nice days and unforgettable moments. What about your summer itinerary?

Bye for now,
Liz.

First Term Test of English

The Text

The Poet of the Algerian Revolution

Zakaria Chikh Benslimane, known as Moufdi Zakaria, is one of the most famous activists, poets and writers in the Algerian literature.

He was born on April 12th, 1908 in Beni Yezguen, Ghardaia. He attended school in the M'zab region but his university education was in Tunisia where he met a number of poets including Abu Qacem Echebbi. His first poetry was published in 1925.

When Moufdi returned to Algeria, he was arrested and was imprisoned many times because of his revolutionary and political activities. In 1955, he joined the Algerian revolution but he was jailed and spent three years in Serkadji prison.

Moufdi Zakaria is best known for the Algerian national anthem « Kassaman » which he wrote in Serkadji prison in 1955 and became the official anthem after the 5th July 1962. He published many other poems, such as : « Under the Shadow of Olives », « The Holy Flame » and « Iliad of Algeria ».

Moufdi Zakaria died on August 17th, 1977 in Tunisia but his body was transferred to Algeria and was buried in his hometown Beni Yezguen in Ghardaia.
