Firstly, I researched and planned my trip to ensure that I would get the most out of my experience. Secondly, I packed my bags and made sure to bring all the essentials, such as a camera, comfortable shoes, and sunscreen. Thirdly, I embarked on my journey and felt a sense of excitement and anticipation as I traveled to my destination. Fourthly, I explored the sights, sounds, and culture of the place I was visiting, immersing myself in the local customs and traditions. Fifthly, I savored the flavors of the local cuisine and enjoyed trying new foods. Lastly, I captured the memories of my trip by taking photos and journaling about my experiences. Overall, my trip was a wonderful adventure that I will cherish for a lifetime.

Firstly, donating to charity can have a positive impact on those in need, whether it be through monetary donations, volunteer work, or other forms of support. Secondly, charitable giving can also benefit the giver, as studies have shown that it can improve overall well-being and happiness. Thirdly, giving to charity can foster a sense of community and encourage others to also give back. By making a conscious effort to support those less fortunate, we can create a better world for everyone. Overall, charitable giving should be seen as an important and meaningful way to make a difference in the world.

Sequencing steps in recipes and arguments in an argumentative text

To sequence (put in order) the various steps in a cooking recipe, I can use the following sequencers: first (for the 1st step); next/ then; after that; finally (for the last step).

Example: If you want to make a healthy strawberry and banana smoothie, first place a few strawberries and half a banana in blender. Next, add a glass of skimmed milk and the content of low-fat, sugar-free natural yogurt pot. After that, pulse until fruit is well blended. Finally, pour into a glass and enjoy!

To sequence (put in order) the various arguments in an argumentative text, I can use the following sequencers: first/ firstly (for the 1st argument); second/ secondly (for the 2nd argument); third/ thirdly (for the 3rd argument; etc.) I can also use: the first, the second, the third point/ argument is ...

Example: Charity work is very useful activity for the community for many reasons. First/ Firstly, it is a universal human value. Second/ Secondly, it helps to strengthen community bonds. Third/ Thirdly, the government alone cannot solve all the social problems; all citizens should take part in relieving the suffering of the poor, the disabled and the homeless.

NOTE: (Firstly/ Secondly/ Thirdly, etc.) are more formal than (First/ Second/ Third, etc.)
