The Modern educational problems:

Education is a basic requirement for any country's development because it teaches us how to improve the culture of peace; however, there has recently been an increase in educational problems.

To begin with, no one can deny that violence has recently seen an unexpected increase in schools, and not only between students themselves, but it threatens teachers nowadays, as it happened recently with the teacher who was stabbed with a knife in her back, which is so dangerous because it results in losing security inside schools. Additionally, the raising rate of school dropout can be related to a variety of factors such as child labor, haphazard job placement, and unemployment after graduation.

To conclude, Education helps to reduce poverty, solve problems, and develop economies and countries, so we must raise awareness of its significance.
